

In an attempt to explore new sonic and creative territory, The Sun God is Nikki Forrester and Jacob Kuhn's next musical project. Striking a balance of fun, infectious beats, with solemn, introspective lyrics, The Sun God sets out to make every moment on stage an experience to remember them by. Dealing with lyrical themes familiar to many; the duality of mental health, the struggle to maximize on one's youth, and the process of giving into our deepest desires, The Sun God's music will leave you equally parts scared of yourself and excited for your own potential.
